

Stampeders sing for Mayor

Tea for the 45 Springbok Stampeders was served in the Mayor's Parlour in Bulawayo yesterday.

"With your enthusiasm you cannot fail to be a success here," said the Mayor, Clr. Jurick Goldwasser.

To prove this, the choir sang a variety of songs in English, Swazi and Afrikaans, one of which was inspired by the Matopos during their stay in Bulawayo a year ago.

One of the nine Rhodesians in the cast, Christine du Plooy (19), from Gwelo, took the main solo leads.
