

DATE.....

14 FEB 1966

RAND DAILY MAIL

and ART

Strong cast for MRA play

SOME of South Africa's finest professional performers will take part in an MRA production of "Through the Garden Wall".

This play was written by Peter Howard who died recently. He was a stalwart of the Moral Rearmament Movement.

The play has been presented in London, with Phyllis Konstam and Oliver Johnston in principal roles.

It has also been staged in Germany, Italy, France and America — as well as other countries and continents.

FIVE WEEKS

In Johannesburg it will open in the Alexander Theatre on March 21 for five weeks, and may go on to Pretoria, Cape Town, Port Elizabeth and Durban.

Among those in the cast will be Margaret Inglis, Robert Langford, Ken Baker, George Korelin, Louis Ife, Gordon Wales, Anthony James and Patsy Karr.

A previous play presented by MRA was "The Forgotten Factor" — and a film "The Voice of the Hurricane" also came from this movement.