"TRANSVALER" ~~SNUBS~~ BUCHMAN

From Our Own Correspondent

JOHANNESBURG, Sunday. — Commenting on the forthcoming visit of Dr. Frank N. D. Buchman, founder of the Moral Re-armament Movement, the Johannesburg Nationalist paper "Die Transvaler" says that according to the Liberal Press, the movement acknowledges no colour line and believes in equal opportunity for everyone.

"If it is true, the ambassadors of the movement cannot possibly expect a hearty welcome from those who believe in Apartheid. The movement has been active in South Africa for some time and its workers here must be acquainted with local conditions."

The invitation to Dr. Buchman to bring a team of his international moral rearmament workers to South Africa was extended by the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Assembly, and the Administrators of the Cape, Transvaal Natal and O.F.S.
